Burger, Cleo, Ivy and Poppy were brought into Hamilton Animal Services as strays. They were quite sick when they arrived, and had severe diarrhea. The shelter reached out to us for help, and we were able to pick these wee ones up and get them straight to the vet for treatment. Medication and special food were prescribed, and thankfully a foster home stepped up to take in the little litter. Fostering pooppy kittens is a lot of work, and we're so grateful for our foster families who are willing to care for animals who need extra care. So far, the kittens have been doing well in their foster home, and we hope they will make full recoveries soon. Learn more...

Adoptable Animals

Do you have room in your heart and home for super cute guinea pigs? If so, we've got oodles available for adoption. Guinea pigs make really adorable and friendly companions. They're often affectionately referred to as furry potatoes due to their furry potato-like appearance and their expert ability to just sit still and cautiously observe. Guinea pigs are always happiest in pairs or in a herd. The more the merrier! See available guinea pigs here.

Congratulations, Tulin!

Tulin is a very chatty, friendly lovebird who also happens to be a fan of Taylor Swift music and action films with tons of explosions. She was rescued as a stray back in June and stayed in foster care for a while before finding a loving forever home. We just love happy endings. Congratulations, Tulin!
